Date: / /

Breaking Words into Syllables

Play this fun game online to practice breaking words into syllables: http://www.bbc.co.uk/skillswise/game/en01soun-game-syllables-factory

How to identify the number of syllables:

- 1] Say the word out loud.
- 2] As you say the word, clap each vowel sound that you say. Each clap makes a beat, which marks a syllable.

Say these words out loud and clap out the syllables:

| look       | we say one vowel sound, that's one clap, so there's 1 syllable.                       |  |
|------------|---|--|
| voice      | we say one vowel sound, that's one clap,so there's 1 syllable                     |  |
| walking    | wal-kingwe say two vowels, that's two claps,so there are 2 syllables.         |  |
| carpet     | car-petwe say two vowels, that's two claps,so there are 2 syllables.          |  |
| carefully  | care-fu-llywe say three vowels, that's three claps,so there are 3 syllables.  |  |
| consistent | con-sis-tentwe say three vowels, that's three claps,so there are 3 syllables. |  |

Breaking Words into Syllables

Here are some more examples:

Clap out the syllables as you say each word out loud.

| Target Word     | Syllables           | IPA                    | Number of syllables |
|-----------------|---------------------|------------------------|---------------------|
| dog             | dog                 | /dpg/                  | 1                   |
| meet            | meet                | /miːt/                 | 1                   |
| nice            | nice                | /nais/                 | 1                   |
| nicer           | ni-cer              | /'naɪ.sə/              | 2                   |
| project         | pro-ject            | /ˈprɒ.dʒekt/           | 2                   |
| table           | ta-ble              | /ˈteɪ.bəlˌ/            | 2                   |
| reporter        | re-por-ter          | /rəˈpɔː.tə/            | 3                   |
| radio           | ra-di-o             | /ˈreɪ.di.joʊ/          | 3                   |
| adventure       | ad-ven-ture         | /əd'ven.t∫ə/           | 3                   |
| Impossible      | im-po-ssi-ble       | /ɪmˈpɒ.sɪ.bəlˌ/        | 4                   |
| operation       | o-pe-ra-tion        | /ˌɒ.pə.ˈreɪ.∫ən/       | 4                   |
| discovery       | di-sco-ve-ry        | /dəˈskʌ.və.ri/         | 4                   |
| congratulations | con-gra-tu-la-tions | /kənˌgræ.tjʊˈleɪ.∫ənz/ | 5                   |
| qualification   | qua-li-fi-ca-tion   | /ˌkwɒ.lə.fəˈkeɪ.∫ən/   | 5                   |
| undeniable      | un-de-ni-a-ble      | /ˌʌn.dɪˈnaɪ.jə.bəlˌ /  | 5                   |

Breaking Words into Syllables

Things you need to know:

- 1] Each syllable in English contains a vowel.
- 2] Be aware that we use sounds when we speak. We use letters when we write. For breaking words into syllables it is the way we pronounce the word that is important, not the spelling. We focus on the number of vowel sounds, not the letters.
- 3] Make sure you can identify English consonant letters and vowel letters. Remember there are five vowel letters in English: a, e, i, o, u.
- 4] Sometimes one vowel sound is made up of more than one vowel letter. For example in the word 'laugh' the two vowel letters 'au' form one sound. The letters 'au' make the single vowel sound /a:/ like in 'car'. The word 'laugh' has one syllable because we pronounce one vowel sound.
- 5] Beware silent letters, like in the words 'late' and 'name'. 'Late' and 'name' have one syllable as we only pronounce one vowel when we say these words. The letter 'e' is silent.
- 6] A diphthong vowel sound makes one syllable. For example /ou/ makes one syllable in the word 'most' /moust/and /eɪ/ in the word 'rate' /reɪt/.
- 7] English words can have one syllable or many syllables. Most words have 1, 2, 3 or 4 syllables.

